Lasting Bouquet - Calibrachoa

You'll never want to go to the florist again with Lasting Bouquet! This amazing colourful pot of stunning Calibrachoa will brighten up any area. With the Easy-Lift Pot, the Lasting Bouquet is a breeze to move around your home, so you can place it indoors or move the brightly-hued flowers to an outside area. Calibrachoa are closely related to Petunias, and form bushy mounds that spill over the sides of the pot, displaying masses of small multi-coloured flowers. Lasting Bouquet will be a fantastic addition to any home and will give eye-catching colour far longer than any cut flower ever could!

Genus: Calibrachoa

Growing: Full sun to light shade. Withstands heat and dry conditions once established.

Soil: Must be planted in well drained soil and is suitable for a range of soil types.

Water: Requires little watering, but give some water when establishing and during hotter periods, but do not over water - they don't like wet feet.

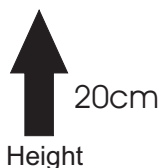

Foliage & Flowering Features: The multi-coloured blooms of the Calibrachoa are the most striking feature of the plant, flowering for most of the year except in the cooler months. The bushy green foliage provides a lush backdrop for the brightly-hued flowers.

Origin: South America

Uses: Lasting Bouquet looks fantastic both in the garden and indoors. Place in the middle of the table of an outdoor setting, or bring a pot inside for some indoor colour. Make sure you bring the plant back outside after a week or so however - Calibrachoa love sunlight.

Maintenance: Easy care. Fertilise with a liquid fertiliser.
